Freelance Travel Journalist & Award Winning Photographer

Get To Know Me

Howdy! I'm Terri Guthrie, a Travel Journalist based in Dallas, Texas. I have syndicated work that appears in numerous publications across Texas, North America, and beyond. Weekly, I have a travel podcast and write monthly travel stories in the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex for Lifestyle Magazines and a regional newspaper, all serving affluent communities. In addition, I'm a contributor to a variety of national and international publications.

Having visited 65 countries across six continents, I specialize in luxury and multi-generational travel while highlighting upscale hotels, cultural immersion, and historical attractions. In print and online, I have over 500 published travel articles, am a national award-winning photographer, and am also a member of the Texas Travel Alliance, TravMedia of North America, Society of American Travel Writers, and International Food Wine Travel Writers Association.
